Aperilink Press Release

A CAPITAL TIME

The Italian-South African Chamber's Aperilink event has finally expanded outside of Johannesburg with the first Pretoria event having been a great success on Thursday 16 September. There were very few better places to be on this springtime evening than at the Italian Club in Pretoria where new friends and business connections were forged, signalling new potential ventures for the future.

The event hosted seventy like-minded businesspeople, professionals and diplomats in a space conducive to dynamic networking along with amazing food, wine and music to buoy it all on. Only the best food and wine is acceptable to such a crowd which Willoway Spar and the Italian Club delivered in style.

The event was made possible by Nedbank, who has shown unending belief in the value of the Italian community in South Africa, sponsoring the awesome Aperilink event, providing spot prizes and sending a number of their own people to take part in the vibes. Furthermore, the ever-generous Campari sent a tuk tuk from which refreshing Aperol Spritz aplenty were served to guests.

Enrico Baldassari, Vice President of the Italian Chamber, welcomed the guests, thanked the sponsors and noted two more upcoming events on the calendar this year. The launch of the Small to Medium Italian League of Enterprises (SMILE) will take place at the Italian Club in Johannesburg on the 14th of December and the Chamber's flagship Business Excellence Awards will take place on the 2nd of December and for the first time it will be hosted in Pretoria, at the Ambassador's residence.

Roberto Cecutti, the head of the European Delegation to South Africa said some wise words about creating a business-friendly environment, especially after the July riots, in order to rebuild business confidence. Lastly, Pamina Bohrer, the Chamber's Secretary General, emphasised the commonalities between all people in the room - South Africans and Italians - and the role that the Italian Chamber plays in giving an advocating voice to these common views within South Africa's business sector.

The Aperilink event is fast becoming the blue-chip networking event for the Italian-South African community in South Africa and the Chamber has big plans to expand this into other cities in South Africa. Be sure to keep your eyes and ears open for the next one near you.
